PROBATE COURT RECORDS,

1830 - 1837

FLOYD COUNTY, INDIANA

Compiled and abstracted by

Mrs. M. Arthur Payne

1964

Alec Watkins, Clerk

Floyd County Circuit Court

It is my desire to preserve old records of Floyd County, Indiana, for the history and genealogical material contained in these old and fragile books.

In 1937 New Albany suffered a disastrous flood and some of these old books were under water. It is remarkable that they could be saved and are still usable.

This book of Probate Records, 1830-1837, which takes the place of a will book B, had mold on every page when I started this abstracting. Luckily, it could be wiped clean, leaving the pages fairly legible.

No changes have been made in the spelling of names. In the same paragraph the name may be spelled in various ways. When this happens, it is not a typographical error as it is copied as written.

My sincere thanks to Alec Watkins, Clerk of Floyd County Circuit Court; to Mrs. Glenn E. Wheeler, State Vice Regent, Indiana DAR, for her encouragement and to my husband who was understanding in the many days spent in the City-County Building besides the many days I spent at my typewriter.

Elizabeth S. Payne
